JUDGE HAD A FAMILY

A. Lee Chamberlain Brings Word That Judge Chamberlain Had a Family.

Richmond, Nov. 2.—A new factor against Dr. Asa Wynne Chamberlain, accused of the murder of his brother, Judge Albert Putnam Chamberlain in Goochland county on Monday night, October 22, arrived in Richmond last night in the person of A. Lee Chamberlain, twenty-eight-year-old son of the murdered man. Young Chamberlain's arrival was the first intimation local authorities had that any member of the dead man's immediate family was in existence. The son stated that his mother also was living, and would have come to Richmond had her health permitted.

The son and his mother learned of the gruesome tragedy enacted at his father's little home in the Goochland hills from dispatches published in newspapers at Des Moines, Iowa, their home. At that time he was in Missouri. His mother wired him, and he hastened to Richmond at once. Last night he conferred with Sheriff W. W. Sydnor relative to what course he should pursue in helping to bring to justice the slayer of his father. The fact that his own uncle is accused does not deter the young man, though he wants the uncle treated fairly and impartially.

The young man has not seen his uncle since coming here, nor does Dr. Chamberlain yet know of his arrival. Sheriff Sydnor is obeying instructions to the letter, and will permit no one other than officers and counsel for the accused to see the prisoner.

Lee Chamberlain does not know much about his Uncle Asa beyond the fact that he successfully practiced medicine for many years at Stratford, where he also conducted a drug store. He stated that it was true that his uncle had been convicted of illegally selling whisky at Stratford. It was about the time of the estrangement between his father and mother that his father came to Virginia, young Chamberlain said.

BERLIN PEOPLE SHIVER.

Lines of Poor Persons Waiting for Little Coal.

Copenhagen, Nov. 2.—According to the Vorwaerts, of Berlin, many residents of that city are shivering in unheated homes, owing to scanty allowance of a quarter of a ton of coal per room. Full delivery was promised, by November 1, but now the only hope expressed is that it may be all delivered by the new year.

Lines of persons waiting to purchase coal are now a regular feature of life in Berlin. Buyers are compelled to stand in line all day to obtain a few scoopsful, which they have to carry home themselves. To the scantily clad and miserably shod women and children of the poor this is a severe strain.

The Berliner's one storage egg, which is a three-weeks' allowance, will cost him 12 cents in November. The authorities advise that it be eaten quickly.

A retail price of $2 a pound has been fixed for sausages made of livers from chicken and game.

MOTHER AND SON KILLED.

Die From Injuries Sustained When Train Strikes Automobile.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Lucy Manson Wynn was instantly killed and her son, William T. Wynn, died within an hour afterwards, from injuries received when an automobile which young Wynn was driving was struck by a northbound freight train on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad at the crossing one mile south of Dewitt, Dinwiddie county, last night. Mrs. Wynn lives near Rawlins station, Brunswick county, and was on her way home from Petersburg, where she and her son came to attend a circus.

They left town shortly after the noon performance, and the accident occurred shortly after 8 o'clock. In the automobile with Mrs. Wynn were three colored children. They escaped with slight injuries. The bodies of Mrs. Wynn and her son were brought to Petersburg to be prepared for burial, and will be sent to Brunswick county for interment.

MR. HOOVER EXPLAINS

Tells What Food Conservation Means—Enrollment of Food Card Signers Very Gratifying.

The Food Administration is somewhat surprised that evidences of misapprehension as to the exact purpose of its plan of food conservation are still reaching Washington in spite of the wide educational campaign that has been carried on by the Federal Food Administrators through the newspapers.

The mistaken idea that American citizens are expected to reduce their own consumption in order to send food to our Allies keeps creeping up. "We do not ask our people to deny themselves any food they need for their health or enjoyment," declared a Food Administration official today. "We are urging only that they substitute nourishing, palatable foods, which we have in abundance for the few commodities that we must ship to our Allies. We must send wheat, meats, fats and sugar. There is no escape from that necessity and duty. We can do it easily if we will substitute corn and other cereals for a part of our usual consumption of wheat, use fish, poultry and eggs instead of part of our ordinary amount of meat, employ vegetable oils instead of animal fats in cooking, and save sugar by using syrups where ever possible. This involves no hardship, no deprivation. In fact it will usually increase the variety and palatability of our daily diet. But, it will release these other foods which concentrate a large amount of nutritive value into a small shipping space. Combined with the elimination of all possible waste it will permit us to keep our Allies supplied with food."

Food Administration officials are highly gratified with the unanimity with which citizens of all states are signing the Food Pledge cards. From various localities come reports that enrollment is much greater than even the most optimistic expectations. In many localities the enrollment includes practically one hundred per cent of the population.

It is stated that here in Alexandria reports have been circulated to the effect that the Federal authorities will visit the homes later on and possibly take away a portion of the canned vegetables and preserves that have been put up. It ought not to be necessary to state that all such reports are absolutely false. There is no truth in them whatever, in any respect.

LA FOLLETTE SYMPATHETIC. Writes Letter to Pacifist Minister Who Was Horsewhipped. Robert M. La Follette, chief pacifist of the United States Senate, last night made public a letter he has written to the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, pacifist of that city, who was recently whipped by a party of masked men for speeches he had made. The Wisconsin senator denounced the treatment of Dr. Bigelow as "an attack upon the liberty of every citizen of this republic," and said if, "as press reports indicate," officials charged with the administration of justice failed in their duty "other means would be found to unmask and punish those who made the attack."

Senator La Follette may demand a congressional investigation as soon as the session reconvenes. It is claimed by a number of members of Congress now in Washington, however, that whatever offense may have been committed was in violation of State and not Federal laws, and should be dealt with by the State authorities.

"The Spy." An American's sacrifice of life and all it holds dear to him, to save his countrymen and learn the secrets of the German spy system forms the theme of the stirring William Fox production, "The Spy," which, with Dustin Farnum in its lead, comes to the Richmond Theatre on Saturday for a one days' run.

The odd feature about this thrilling drama is that it contains all the vigor and excitement of war, without a single battle scene being flashed on the screen.

Harold Lockwood will be seen in "Paradise Garden" tonight at the Richmond.

At the Surprise Franklin Farnum will be featured in "The Man Who Took a Chance."

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Mrs. Percy E. Clift of North Columbus street is the guest of Richmond friends.

The new three-cent postage law on letters went into effect today. Post cards of all kinds now require two cents. It is a war tax rendered necessary by the extraordinary expenses of the government which all patriotic Americans should cheerfully comply with.

All persons interested in the mission to Lepers are requested to go to the Sunday school room of the M. E. Church South tonight at 7:30, and those having the "Golden Pig" banks should take the contents of the bank to this semi-annual meeting of the friends of the "Golden Pig."

The funeral of James F. Crandall, who died at the Alexandria hospital Wednesday night, was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. R. Chambers, in Rosemont, this morning at half-past nine o'clock. The interment was at Ivy Hill. The deceased was 80 years old.

Wilmer J. Waller, of Alexandria, has been elected by the board of directors of the American National Bank of Washington assistant cashier of that institution. Mr. Waller became associated with the bank as a runner eleven years ago. His many friends will rejoice with him in his advancement.

The executive committee of the Alexandria branch of the Red Cross held a lengthy meeting last night at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at which various matters of interest to the organization were brought up for discussion. President Robert S. Jones presided and there was about 25 of the 30 members of the committee in attendance.

TELEPHONE TAXES.

New Law Imposes Additional Expense Upon Those Who Use Telephones.

Concerning the new tax on telephone messages, C. J. Sobotka, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Alexandria, when seen this morning said:

"The preparation for the collection of the five-cent tax on all messages of 15 cents or over has been a big job for the telephone company," said Mr. Sobotka. In the case of public telephones with coin box attachments the tax of 5 cents is to be inserted as directed by the operator in the coin box by the person who sends the message, and all operators have been instructed to arrange for this. Special preparations for billing regular subscribers correctly for the tax imposed on their messages of 15 cents and over also had to be made. New collection routine had to be prepared and new systems of accounting worked out. The telephone company has advised all telephone users of the new law and notices giving full directions have been placed on all public telephones and all subscribers have been advised by means of a circular enclosed with their monthly bills. The law not only applies to all messages on which the rate is 15 cents or more per message, but also to all messages on which the total charge, including overtime, amounts to 15 cents or more. Thus, while a single call at the rate of 5 cents bears no tax, should the conversation be prolonged over a period which would make the aggregate charge 15 cents or more, the tax of 5 cents is imposed. All telephone bills rendered during the life of this law will include a toll service statement that will show those messages on which the tax is to be levied together with the amount of such tax."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to our friends for their kindness and sympathy and beautiful floral tributes extended at the sudden death of our dear husband and father, James Millan.

Mrs. D. R. Stansbury, who was recently operated upon at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat hospital in Washington, is improving as rapidly as could be expected, a fact her many friends will be glad to hear.

Arrangements are completed for the Halloween party to be given this evening at the Westminster building which will be decorated with the usual Halloween symbols. Many persons will be in costume. A palmist will read the future of the lads and lasses who desire to know what is in store for them. There will be no admission fee, and all the soldiers and their friends are invited.

It has been erroneously stated that the quota of drafted men from Alexandria city and county is 37 short of the required number. The report is not true. The members of the Alexandria exemption board today informed a representative of the Gazette that only seven more men will be needed to complete the quota from both the county and city and that cases now pending may reduce that number. Two more men will be sent to Camp Lee from here on Sunday next. Their names are Neville H. Peake and Lyman M. Moore.

The concert given for the benefit of the Belgians at the Elks' auditorium last night attracted a large audience. Mayor Fisher introduced Representative Carlin, who presided and gave a most excellent address. The program rendered by the Twelfth Field Artillery band of the St. Asaph military camp was very creditable and thoroughly enjoyed. The Rev. Louis Smet, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, a former resident of Belgium, spoke very feelingly concerning the people of his native country, and as a result of the concert the sum of $81.28 was realized for the Belgium fund.

VON HERTLING ACCEPTS.

Berlin Dispatches Received in Amsterdam, Says he Becomes New Chancellor.

Amsterdam, Nov. 2.—According to dispatches received here from Berlin, the Cologne Gazette says, Emperor William received Count von Hertling yesterday afternoon, and that Von Hertling accepted the Imperial Chancellorship and the office of Premier of Prussia. Dr. Karl Helfferich, Secretary of the Interior, and vice-Chancellor, and Herr von Waldow, president of the German food regulation board, have resigned. Friedrich von Payer, progressive member of the Reichstag, says the dispatch, is to be appointed Vice-Chancellor, and Herr Friedberg, leader of the National Liberal party, will be given the post of vice-president of the Prussian ministry.

The Cologne Gazette says the resignation of Vice-Admiral von Capelle as Minister of the Navy has not been accepted.

SINK GERMAN SUBS.

Sir Eric Geddes Fints at New Anti-Boat League.

London, Nov. 2.—Nearly half of the German submarine fleet has been sunk by the British during the war. This information was given to the House of Commons yesterday by Sir Eric Geddes, in his maiden speech as first Lord of the admiralty. He gave the first official statement showing the extent to which Great Britain is combatting the U-boat menace.

The destruction of U-boats by the British measures, the exact nature of which could not be revealed for military reasons, is becoming increasingly effective, Sir Eric told the Parliament. He warned, however, against over-confidence.

"We are sinking submarines at a faster rate," he said, "but at the same time, Germany is building them at a faster rate."

He outlined a number of changes in the organization and administration which he said would make for intensified efficiency all around.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Provost-Marshal-General Crowder yesterday notified all Governors of amendments to the draft regulations, which will insure practically immediate army service for all slackers convicted of failing to register.

There was no session of the Police Court this morning.

"Maroon and White," published by the pupils of the Alexandria High School, has made its appearance. The typographical garb is tasteful and neat, it comes from the press of Harry W. Wade, at 313 King street. The articles in the initial number are interesting not only to the younger generation, but to old and young alike. Isobel G. Boswell is editor-in-chief with eleven associates.

William K. Teachum, husband of Mrs. Mollie E. Teachum, grand lecturer of the Order of Eastern Star of the District of Columbia, died yesterday at his home in the city of Washington. The deceased will be buried on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence, 1007 M street, S. E., Washington. It is expected that a large delegation from Martha Washington Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of this city, will attend.

The Gazette learns today that after consulting with Major McCloskey concerning the extending of invitations to soldiers at St. Asaph by the ladies of Alexandria for Thanksgiving dinners, that the movement has practically been called off so far as this city is concerned. The reason is due to the fact that Uncle Sam is arranging to provide a special dinner for the soldier boys in camp there on that day, which, together with the fact that the boys have arranged for various sports for the occasion, seems to conflict somewhat with the idea of taking them away from camp at that time. Should any of the good housewives of the city desire to invite any of the soldiers to their homes for dinner on Sundays or at other times, however, it is stated there is no good reason for there not doing so.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

German Military Expert Says the Countries Will Not Fight.

Copenhagen, Nov. 2.—Capt. von Salzmann, military critic and Far Eastern expert of the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, warns his readers that they no longer have the right to count upon a future war between Japan and the United States, which has become a fixed idea with the average German and a definite element in the government's political calculations. This element, the captain writes, must be eliminated for a long time, at least, and Germany instead must count upon Japan to enter into the Paris economic agreement and participate in an anti-German postbellum business war.

Capt. von Salzmann takes his text from the recent speech in London of Viscount Chinda, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain, in which he warned against German intrigue for the purpose of creating friction between Japan and the United States. The captain also refers to the negotiations at Washington of Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission to the United States. He says Japan and America, taking a lesson from the European conflict, apparently have determined it is best to settle their problems by arbitration and friendly agreement, rather than by costly hostilities and that it looks as though these nations would come to an agreement regarding China.

RE-ELECT OLD OFFICERS.

Routine Business Transacted at Meeting of the City School Board Last Night.

Eight members of the City School Board attended the regular meeting last night. The business transacted was, in the main, of a routine nature. Superintendent Sweeney reported that the bulk of the boys who quit school a few weeks ago had returned to their studies after appearing before the Board, Superintendent and faculty last week.

The old officers were re-elected as follows: P. M. Bradshaw, of the Second ward, Chairman.

T. C. Howard, of the Fourth ward, Vice Chairman.

G. J. Cox, of the First ward, Clerk.

The board subsequently adjourned.

AID ARRIVES FOR ITALY

One of the Most Decisive Battles of the War Said to be Impending.

Amsterdam, Nov. 2.—The Teuton center in Venetia Wednesday crossed the Tagliamento River on its lower course and cut off and captured 60,000 Italians, the German war office announces. "Portions of the enemy army," says the statement, "made a stand at the Tagliamento."

The statement adds that Cadorna's troops rendered violent resistance. The Germans captured the bridge-heads of Dignano and Codriopo.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—The Austro-German forces invading Italy have increased the number of prisoners taken to more than 180,000.

Rome, Nov. 2.—The first contingents of French and English troops rushed to Italy's aid have arrived on the Tagliamento line. They were greeted with great enthusiasm by the Italians. Their arrival is expected to inspire Cadorna's armies to sustained tenacity and valor. In every city, village and hamlet through which the allied contingents passed they were received by tremendous demonstrations of enthusiasm and gratitude. All particulars regarding the strength and formation of the entire units is withheld for military reasons.

Washington, Nov. 2.—No word had come to the Italian Embassy regarding the number of men who have arrived for the relief of the retreating forces, but it is believed to be large. Confidence was expressed that within the next four or five days the number will be greatly augmented and that the advancing German-Austrian line will not go beyond the Tagliamento River.

Official army and diplomatic circles were last night awaiting word of the beginning of possibly one of the most decisive battles of the war, and there is a general belief that the tide had set so strongly against Italy a week ago has just about spent itself.

One typical Alpine snowstorm may turn Italy's plight into a defeat of the Austro-German drive.

Italian cavalry has come furiously to the aid of the retreating armies and, according to the messages received at the Italian Embassy, are driving in the greatest cavalry maneuver since the battle of Chancellorsville. They are reported as holding back the enemy and harassing them so that their advance has been checked, if not halted entirely.

Reports indicate that the Italian armies have mostly reached the plains and that Germany's troops are still coming over the mountain passes. This part of Italy becomes snowbound generally around this time of the year and in some of the passes the snow remains fifteen and twenty feet deep until as late as June.

Supplementing the dispatches to the Italian Embassy, a cablegram was received by Secretary Lansing yesterday, saying that the pursuit of the Germans was slackening. They also described the political situation of Italy as one of unity in the face of extreme danger.

General Corsi, in messages received here, gives much encouragement in plotting out that the Germans have failed in three things they contemplated.

They have failed to disrupt Italy politically.

They have failed to drive the people into clamor for early peace.

They have failed in the military sense, because on the first two the latter depended in large measure.

He says the armies have extricated themselves from the trap.

EAGER TO FIGHT.

Marines in Haiti Seek Transfer to French Battle Line.

Washington, Nov. 2.—After receiving their baptism of fire in the fights and campaigns incident to the establishment of good government in Haiti and Santo Domingo, United States marine veterans, now serving in those countries, are straining at the leash in eagerness to take up arms with their brothers overseas. Headquarters here have received many letters from marines in Haiti requesting their transfer to the battle front in France. Peace is now thoroughly established in the West Indian republics, and the sea-soldiers are tiring of the comparative quiet of the various posts where they are serving.

COLLAPSE OF RUSSIA

Kerensky's Intention to Quit Was Known to Germans Several Days Ago.

Russia, torn by internal dissension and worn out from the financial and economic drain of war and mismanagement, is withdrawing from the world struggle.

While repeating that it has "absolutely no information as to developments in Russia," the embassy here today answered only evasively persistent report that Russia is through fighting.

No doubt exists in allied quarters that the first great allied power to enter the war is quitting. Whether she will make a separate peace or merely remain inactive until spring, information available here did not make clear.

Both at the State Department and at the Russian embassy the idea that Russia would make a separate peace was discredited. All dispatches recently received by Secretary Lansing from Petrograd indicated no intention of Russia making peace with the Teutons.

It is believed that her present with crawling from the struggle is to concentrate on re-establishing her internal affairs and formulating a policy of control for the army. That she will return as a potent factor next spring or summer is confidently believed.

Russia's decision to 'cease active participation in the war is believed to have been reached some time ago. There have been closely veiled intimations in some allied quarters for several days that Russia had decided to quit and that Germany knew it before the Kaiser swung his legions from the Russian front to northern Italy to support the Austrians in the great drive against Cadorna.

It is now believed the Kaiser's spectacular demonstration at Riga, landing German troops on the Western peninsula and his naval operations in the Baltic served to quiet Russia definitely.

The following official announcement by the Russian Embassy was made today:

While temporarily withdrawing from active military participation in the great war Russia will stand by her allies and make no separate peace with Germany.

Russia is worn out by her tremendous struggle to establish a stable government after the revolution and is weakened by mismanagement of her economic affairs.

Hence for the time being—probably until next spring or summer—she is shunting the burden of active warfare against the Teutons onto the shoulders of her allies.

Russia has not, nor will she negotiate for a separate peace with Germany or Austria.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE BUG.

Prisoner Calmly Tells of Many Blazes Which He Admitted Responsibility for.

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—The fire in the Washington Hotel, Seventh and Dauphin streets, on Tuesday night, which caused the death of one man and endangered the lives of many others, was started by a firebug to "quiet his nerves." This startling confession was made yesterday by George Davis, of Port Norris, N. J., after he had been arrested by Detective Orndorff, of the Twenty-second district and Assistant Fire Marshal Whitmore.

"I can't help knocking horses in the head and setting fire to buildings," he confessed to his captors. "I have to do it to quiet my nerves."

Davis also confessed setting fire to at least 40 barns and dwellings in various parts of New Jersey, and although he is obviously insane and talks in a rambling fashion, Assistant Fire Marshal Whitmore said he believed the man had not overestimated the number of blazes he had started.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

As will be seen elsewhere in the Gazette, the old officers of the City School Board were re-elected last night. The City Council in joint session a few nights ago re-elected the four members of the Board whose terms expired this month.

The position of School Trustee, which often goes begging, is one which requires time and often labor. The chairman of the committee on schoolhouses and furniture has about as much to look after as the chairman of the committee on streets of the City Council, while the finance committee generally has much to do. The committees on teachers and janitors are often kept busy and anxious, especially at this time when there is no telling what changes may occur within a few hours. The labors of the other committees are not so onerous, although each has at times its work and vexations.

The City Council has for years appreciated the services of the members of the School Board by re-electing them, as they did a few nights ago.

Last summer, when an election for municipal officers took place, the Gazette was pleased to call attention to the fact that the old and tried city officials had no competitors.

Fierce political issues are few and far between in Alexandria. Forty-one years ago there was an upheaval in this city, long to be remembered, when what was known as the "Potato Bug" movement was inaugurated. The Legislature was asked to amend the charter of the city so that suffragans could vote for candidates for every office. The request was granted and a ticket a yard long was placed in the hands of voters when they reached the polls. The people were called upon to select every officer, including members of the police force, Police Commissioners, members of the Board of Health, Keeper of the Alms House, etc.

This regime lasted about a year, when, like the frogs in the fable who wanted a king, the people of our old city asked that previous conditions be restored. The charter was changed, since which time Alexandria has followed the even, tenor of its way.

THE DOG PROBLEM.

The Commissioners of the District of Columbia have issued orders to the police department to enforce the law requiring the muzzling of all dogs. They are also considering the advisability of increasing the tax upon all canines from two to ten dollars a year.

It seems impossible to have the dog laws of Alexandria enforced, although Mayor Fisher recently directed the members of the police force to ferret out all owners of dogs who have neglected to pay taxes upon such animals. Two or three persons, all colored, have since been brought before the Police Court to answer the charge of harboring dogs without paying the required $1.50 a year.

The muzzling law has long been disregarded in Alexandria. In fact the appearance of a dog upon the streets with a wire safeguard on its head would be as much of a curiosity as a mermaid.

Every neighborhood is infested with ownerless and useless curs, while there is no telling how many canines are harbored by people who never think of paying taxes upon them.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that dogs can be utilized, that is after they have passed to the happy hunting ground. Many years ago the authorities of New York started a crusade upon ownerless dogs, and hundreds were netted, placed in an iron cage at one of the wharves and lowered into the river. After they had been thus disposed of, the dead dogs were transported across the river to Brooklyn where they entered into the composition of a high grade of shoe blacking. Some readers will remember that a long time ago that labels on blacking boxes contained pictures of dogs seeing themselves in a newly blackened boot. There was more truth than fiction in this representation.

FIGHTING IN THE HOLY LAND.

During the titanic struggle of the past three years battlefields of old and places interesting to the students of Biblical and ancient history generally, have again become prominent in engagements or military movements. We read today that Beersheba has been captured by the British troops and 1,800 prisoners taken.

Beersheba is situated in the southern section of the Holy Land; Dan is in the northern part. After the death of Solomon Jeroboam placed himself at the head of ten tribes of Israel which had broken from Rehoboam, the son of Solomon, who reigned in Jerusalem. After a time Jeroboam realized that something should be done at once to keep his subjects from going to Jerusalem to certain feasts, else his Kingdom of Israel would soon be a thing of the past. He therefore set up two golden calves, one at Dan and the other at Beersheba—the northern and southern parts of his kingdom—and urged his subjects to worship these objects. He brought down the wrath of heaven upon himself and his people. In our day we often hear the expression "From Dan to Beersheba"—that is from one end of the country to the other.

CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

As was stated in the Gazette yesterday, Halloween festivities on Wednesday night were conducted in Alexandria and in Washington generally on common-sense principles. There was but little of the overt upon the part of any one who mingled in the crowds of revellers.

We notice in our exchanges that similar conditions prevailed in other places, the masqueraders refraining from practical jokes or any acts which annoyed or injured the property of others. This was as it should have been at all recurrences of Halloween. But it was not always thus. In our old sober-side city of Alexandria in bygone years the younger generation assumed that on that night no one had any rights they were bound to respect, and windows were often smashed and panels of doors knocked in, and early on the following morning people could be seen searching in alleys and other places for door and window blinds which had been taken from their hinges the previous night.

MINISTER'S FORECAST.

More than 800 persons last night attended the regular weekly "question drawer" meeting at the First Congregational church in Washington, conducted by the Rev. James L. Gordon, pastor.

Dr. Gordon predicted that before the great world war is over, conditions would gradually get worse for the allies, but that at the time set by God for the conclusion of the war the Kaiser would be doomed.

The doctor is safe in his prognosis, as, according to a saying which ante-dates the period of Pericles, there is an end of all things. Nebuchadnezzar had his day, as did Darius and Cyrus, Alexander, the Roman Empire, Mahomet, Napoleon and others in whose wake desolation and distress have followed. The Kaiser will undoubtedly have his day, but the question now asked by peace-loving people is, "Are there any signs of the setting of his sun?"

NEWS OF THE DAY

President Braz, of Brazil, in a circular addressed to the presidents of the states of Brazil, declares that Brazil without faltering the sacrifices she will be called upon to make because of her entrance into war. The president urges cooperation in keeping down expenditures, as well as in increasing agricultural production, in order that Brazil may become the granary of the allies. More than one-half of the potato and bean crops will be destroyed unless there is a moderation of the weather in western New York. Snow fell during Wednesday night covering the ground from two to four inches. Less than 50 per cent of the crops have been harvested.

Details of the alleged mutiny of 150 negroes of the Twenty-fourth Infantry last August when they killed an army captain and raided Houston, Texas, where they murdered twenty-two citizens, were given here today at the court martial of sixty-three of the negro soldiers by Major K. S. Snow. Major Snow said he tried to dissuade the blacks from mutiny and they threatened to kill him. He said they fired many shots in the camp before starting on their murderous mission into the city. Eighty other soldiers of the same regiment held on less serious charges are to be tried at El Paso, Texas.

Many of the men now in the draft army camps will see service in France soon. Secretary Baker indicated this yesterday, while at the same time denying that any movement of these troops in large bodies was contemplated.

A German submarine torpedoed and sunk the British steamship East Wales, of 4,321 tons gross, off Queens-town October 14, according to a survivor, who arrived yesterday at an Atlantic Port today. One of the two U-boats which took part in the attack shelled the open lifeboats, and three of the crew perished and four others were wounded.

Further investigation has revealed the deaths of nine children who were inmates of the Yonkers, N. Y., day nursery, the two owners of which have been arrested on charges of neglecting the children, it was announced last night by Charles H. Warner, superintendent of the Westchester County Children's Society. Two deaths occurred at hospitals, he said, after the children had been taken there from the nursery, but no record of the cases was found at the nursery. Another child, taken from the nursery when it was closed, died yesterday. Miss Annie Murphy and Miss Bridget O'Flaherty, owners of the nursery, are being held for a hearing.

The casualty list of Wednesday night's air raid on London has mounted to twelve killed and sixteen wounded. About thirty airplanes, in several groups, took part in the raid. Three of the machines penetrated to the heart of London.

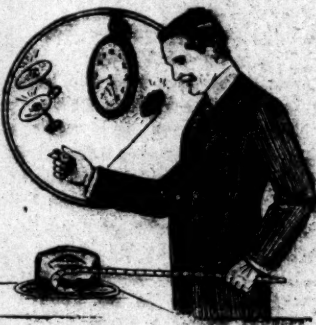

Col. Ancheta was killed and his command of 200 federal troops almost wiped out when trapped in a mountain pass near Suagi Grande, Sonora, by Yaqui Indians, last Saturday, a message received in El Paso, Texas, from Sonora states.

Harry Waseonick, 7, of New York, is dead from a meal on pancakes in which his sister unintentionally used roach powder instead of baking powder.

OFFICIAL Common Council.

At a called meeting of the Common Council held November 1st, 1917, there were present: Howard W. Smith, esq., President and Messrs. Woods, Armstrong, Ruben, Kaufman, Wattles, Desmond, Burke, Bendheim, and Devers. A resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to borrow the sum of sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary, which was received from the Board of Aldermen and laid on the table October 23, 1917, was called from the table and passed. Ayes Messrs. Woods, Armstrong, Ruben, Kaufman, Wattles, Desmond, Burke, Bendheim, Devers and Mr. President—10. Noes 0.

The board then adjourned. HOWARD W. SMITH, President. Daniel R. Stansbury, Clerk.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Complaint against Benjamin Perlin, eighteen years old, who has an excellent reputation as clerk with Kaufmann and Company, Richmond, charged with attacking and beating Mrs. Pauline Nowell, seventeen years old, while she was returning from Stump's hotel, where she was employed at the cigar and news stand, has been dismissed in juvenile and domestic relations court. Perlin succeeded in establishing a complete alibi. It was shown that he was at home at the time of the assault. Two witnesses testified that another youth, whom they know personally, attacked Mrs. Nowell, and fled from the scene before they could detain him.

How the health inspector found the crepe already on the door of one of the children who died of diphtheria last month when he went to release the child so that it could attend school is told by Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, health chief of Richmond, in pointing out the dangers of the disease which is most prevalent at this time of the year. "It illustrates," says Dr. Flannagan, "that although the child may have become non-infectious and consequently not a menace to the community, the greatest care should be exercised in the succeeding treatment of the child infected with the disease. It is in stages of the recovery of the child that perhaps the greatest danger of all lies," he pointed out, "for it is then the heart is weakest and is recuperating and any extra strain such as romping at school is likely to prove immediately fatal."

Miss Clara Craddock, nineteen-year-old daughter of J. S. Craddock, of Roxbury, is a patient at Memorial hospital, Richmond, under treatment for a gunshot wound in the face. She was accidentally shot by Thomas Watkins, a friend of her brother, while the two were leaving on a hunting trip. She closed the door as they went out and it struck Watkins' gun, causing the lead to be discharged through the door. Her injuries are regarded as not especially serious, but she may be disfigured as a result of the accident.

Mrs. Mary M. Miller, wife of I. A. Miller, near Nokesville, Va., died Monday morning in her home after a few days' illness. She is a native of Augusta county, Virginia, but had spent the past eighteen years in Prince William county.

A helpful and successful District Sunday School Association was held in the Manassas M. E. Church South on Sunday. There were afternoon and evening sessions. Both officers of the Manassas district were re-elected, Powell M. Metz, chairman, and Rev. Henry Lawson, secretary.

Rev. William H. Cumpston, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, Fredericksburg, has accepted an engagement with the war work council of the Y. M. C. A. for the period of the war, and has left for Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C.

Charles Clark, New York, Frank Dinges, Shenandoah, and Walter Kee Taylor escaped from the Luray jail at a late hour Sunday. They cut an opening in the concrete ceiling of their steel cages with an ordinary case knife.

Alfred T. Peterson, of Big Stone Gap, will have to spend three years in the Federal prison for stealing a forty-cent money order stamp from the postoffice. His appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals was denied.

Mistaking her sister, who was dressed in a Halloween garb, for a burglar, Mary Smith, colored, of Richmond, shot and seriously wounded Lillie Medley last night. Lillie Medley was removed to the Virginia Hospital for treatment. Her condition is said to be dangerous.
